CAMPUS RESOURCE GUIDE

WELCOME!

Experience. It comes in many forms, and as a student, your task is to figure out how the things you do – in class, at home, in student orgs, in an internship, or at work – can lead you to the career you want after graduation. Use this Resource Guide to get connected with campus offices, organizations, and resources that can help you make the most of your time at UM-Dearborn!

In this Guide you'll find resources to support your academic journey with connections to advising, the library, and academic success support. You'll also find ways to connect with other UM-Dearborn students to learn and socialize, and with alumni and employers to network and find employment.

EXPERIENCE+

EXPERIENCE = GROWTH

To further support your journey, the University created Experience+. This collaboration among the Mardigian Library, Global Engagement, and Career Services helps connect you with opportunities such as:

- Campus employment opportunities
- Research support and opportunities
- Intercultural experiences
- Study abroad guidance and support
- Career and skill coaching

 umdearborn.edu/experienceplus

We encourage you to leverage all of the resources and opportunities available at UM-Dearborn to become the person and professional you want to be!

Get in the driver's seat, start the journey, and Go Blue – Go Dearborn!

Academic Advising

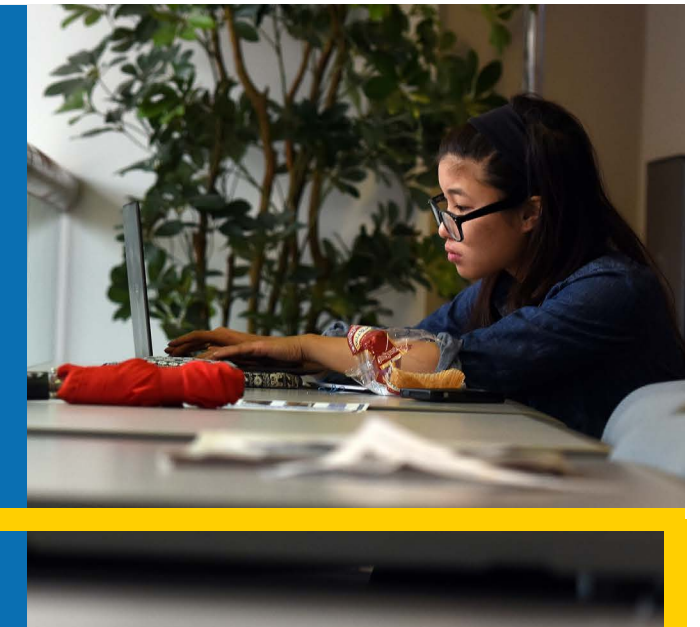

Meeting with an Academic Advisor each semester allows students to develop a relationship with a campus representative who will support you on your academic journey. Connect with your advisor to understand degree requirements and class scheduling, learn more about a major, or manage school/life balance.

Who's My Advisor?

Different students are served by different advising offices:

Incoming freshmen, undecided, and select transfer students go to the Student Advising and Resource Team (START). Most new transfer students and continuing students are advised in their college. Undergraduate students can find their assigned advisor in their student portal by navigating to their Success Team.

Graduate students are notified of their advisor upon admission.

Link to all advising pages: umdearborn.edu/advising

Advising with a Fellow Student

In addition to professional staff, some offices—such as START—also have peer educators who understand what it's like to be a student at UM-Dearborn.

Peer Advising Learning & Success (PALS)

If you're a student striving for academic success, these peer educators will help you create specific goals and follow an individualized plan to achieve your goals. Connect with PALS to learn more about effective studying techniques, time management strategies, and other topics to integrate into your plan for success.

Tutoring, Supplemental Instruction & Learning Centers

Students are encouraged to take advantage of academic resources and services, including learning and connecting with your fellow students through peer instruction.

Office of Academic Success

The Office of Academic Success provides resources, opportunities, and services that enhance the academic experience, teaching and learning, and graduation of UM-Dearborn students.

Free individual and peer-led group tutoring is available for many UM-Dearborn courses. Peer tutors help improve performance in difficult courses by modeling effective learning techniques and breaking down difficult concepts.

More info: umdearborn.edu/tutoring

Supplemental Instruction sessions are peer-assisted, regularly-scheduled informal review sessions in which students compare their class notes, discuss assigned readings, practice problem solving and develop organizational tools. More info: umdearborn.edu/supplementalinstruction

Math Learning Center supports student efforts towards greater success particularly in the field of mathematics. All students are welcome for help with any math or stats class. More info: umdearborn.edu/academic-success/math-learning-center

Science Learning Center helps all students succeed in science courses and labs by emphasizing and teaching essential mathematical, graphing and laboratory skills. More info: umdearborn.edu/slc

Writing Center can help you become an effective and confident writer, no matter your field of study by connecting you to work one-on-one with peer consultants. Make an appointment today and find more info: umdearborn.edu/writing-center

Additional Campus Resources

There are other academic support units as well – visit these websites for information about their services.

Foreign Language Lab faculty and student tutors in Arabic, French, German, and Spanish are available to help you master a new language. More info: umdearborn.edu/language

The Student Support Services (SSS) Program provides mentoring, graduate school preparation services and academic assistance in reading, writing, science, mathematics and other subjects to undergraduate students who identify as first generation, disabled, students evidencing academic need, and those who meet the U.S. Department of Education income-guidelines. More info: umdearborn.edu/Office-TRIO-SSS

The Select Student Support Services (4S) Program provides career preparation resources, mentoring and graduate school preparation services. This program also provides academic assistance in reading, writing, science, mathematics and other subjects to undergraduate students who identify as first generation, disabled, students evidencing academic need and/or are Pell eligible. More info: umdearborn.edu/office-trio-programs/select-student-support-services-4s

Mardigian Library

The Mardigian Library (ML) is a campus hub for academic success, creativity, knowledge creation and interdisciplinary collaboration. Through the Library's website, students have access to hundreds of resources including databases, journals, and e-books that are available from both on and off-campus. Individualized research support is available for all majors from instructional librarians.

Disability and Accessibility Services

Disability and Accessibility Services collaborates with students, faculty, and staff to create usable, equitable, inclusive, and sustainable learning environments. There may be times when there are aspects of the instruction or design of your courses that result in barriers to your inclusion or to accurate assessment of achievement. When that is the case, our office will work with you to arrange for accommodations. Services are both highly individualized and based on need; they may include, but are not limited to, the following: advocacy and referral on campus; orientation to campus resources; course materials in alternative formats; special testing arrangements; support coaching; access to adaptive equipment and technology.

Welcome to Campus!

Whether classes are on campus or in a hybrid format, there are many ways to get involved and engage beyond the classroom. The University is committed to creating and maintaining a working and learning environment that is respectful, safe, welcoming and inclusive; so meet new people, pursue your passion, build transferable skills, have fun and make a difference!

Campus Involvement Hub

The Campus Involvement Hub is your home to find involvement opportunities at UM-Dearborn! Stop by 1290 Renick University Center to learn more about starting your own student organization, rent a board game, or sign up for special events like a trip to Cedar Point with the Student Activities Board (SAB). You can even make an appointment with a Campus Involvement Consultant to get personalized recommendations of engagement opportunities you may enjoy based on your unique interests.

Student Organizations

Student Organizations are the heartbeat of the campus community. There are over 150 registered student organizations (RSOs) — including 8 fraternities and sororities — all of which offer programs, social projects, and activities throughout the academic year. See all student events that are happening on and off-campus, find the student organizations that you are most interested in, and track your service hours in VictorsLink!

 umdearborn.edu/victorslink

First Gen & Transfer Students

The First Gen Student Org recognizes that being the first in your family to attend college can be a challenge. The org works to inform, connect, and celebrate first gen students at UM-Dearborn.

The Transfer Student Association is a newer sponsored organization, and strives to support transfer students in connecting with other transfer students and navigating your new campus home! Look for these orgs (and others!) in VictorsLink.

Office of Graduate Studies

The Office of Graduate Studies helps not only during the application process, but also during your time at UM-Dearborn by providing orientation resources, competitions, and coordinating programming and events to serve the unique needs of graduate students. They partner with the 4 colleges, Experience+, the Library, and the Graduate International Student Organization (GISO) to help students grow professionally and personally.

 umdearborn.edu/gradstudies

International Students

The Office of International Affairs (OIA) supports international students from the time they are admitted to the University, throughout their academic journey at UM-Dearborn, and after graduation. In addition to helping establish a welcoming, supportive campus community, the OIA provides a variety of programming and services including immigration advising, workshops, and information sessions to enrich the University experience and ensure that international students thrive at UM-Dearborn and beyond.

Counseling and Psychological Services

College can be stressful, and CAPS is here to help you maintain your mental health and wellness so you can succeed. While students may seek out counseling for reasons such as depressed mood, anxiety, or sexuality and/or gender questioning, all students are encouraged to contact CAPS if they start to feel overwhelmed. Currently enrolled students can take advantage of all of the services free – there is no cost for this important, confidential help. Available services include crisis intervention, individual therapy, group therapy, couples therapy, peer-led support groups and interactive workshops conducted by licensed mental health professionals.

Internships

Internships, cooperative education (co-ops), practicums, field placements – depending on your major, you may hear different terms but with similar meanings – are experiences that will help you build essential transferable skills that can be used in a professional setting.

Of course, every experience will be different, but here are some examples of skills developed while on an internship or co-op:

Analytical: Compiled, sorted and analyzed social media data to be used in client presentations.

Customer service: Interacted with customers in a professional and efficient manner.

Critical thinking: Developed a coupon discount program increasing client traffic by 15% in the first three months.

Student Employment

Many students work while in college for a variety of reasons, but one is often to gain experience that prepares you for the professional workforce after you graduate. These experiences can help you develop transferable and professional skills, gain exposure to the diverse functionalities of a workplace, and can advance your career opportunities!

You may qualify for Federal Work Study. Work-Study is a federally-subsidized hourly wage job program which gives domestic students the opportunity to earn their award through employment. Work study can also be used off campus at some non-profits.

Not sure if you have work study?

Financial Aid Resources

Sources of financial aid usually take the form of a loan, grant or scholarship – these are based on merit (academic achievement) and/or Expected Family Contribution (EFC) calculated in your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Students (and their families) are required to complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) each year to be considered for financial aid. Even if the circumstances have not changed, the new application will confirm your situation. Each financial aid program has special criteria so be sure to check the website. There you will also find a list of frequently asked questions (FAQs).

Wifi

Information Technology Services (ITS) provides wifi for your devices to connect to the internet and U-M networks while on campus. The two major wifi networks are MWireless and eduroam. Instructions for getting connected to U-M provided wifi networks can be found on the Get Connected page.

MWireless

All university affiliates with a valid U-M email address and password should use MWireless when on campus because it is secure and encrypted. It is only available on 5GHz frequency—older devices that only support the 2.4 GHz frequency will not be able to see or use MWireless and can instead use eduroam.

eduroam

eduroam is available to students, faculty and staff when visiting other universities and colleges, and should be configured through MSetup before visiting other institutions.

Full access to U-M resources is available when using MWireless or eduroam. Available on the 2.4GHz & 5GHz frequencies.

UPrint

UPrint is a printing service for students in all UM-Dearborn colleges. Each term, registered students are allocated print credit (around 500 B&W pages). UPRINT release stations are located all over campus. Any job submitted via a lab computer, WebPrint or from Mobility Print can be processed at a release station.
