

Doctor of Philosophy Automotive Systems Engineering

Program Goals

To train talented students who will conduct original and innovative research in the engineering field, educate future generations, and play leading roles in developing cutting edge technologies while working in industry, academia and government.

Learning Outcomes

1. Students will be able to conduct independent and original research of high academic quality (Tag: Research & Innovation/Problem Solving)
2. Students will be able to communicate effectively through written and oral presentation (Tag: Scholarship)