

Modeling and Simulations in Engineering Certificate Goals

1. The graduates of the program will have understanding of the fundamental principles of Modeling and Simulations in Engineering.
2. The graduates of the program will learn advanced and emerging approaches to Modeling and Simulations in Engineering.
3. The program will assist in professional advancement in participating students.